

The Section fosters an ongoing dialogue regarding the criminal justice system.

The Philadelphia Bar Association's Criminal Justice Section brings together criminal law practitioners to share ideas, review topics, examine issues and make recommendations concerning criminal law and procedure. In this way, the Section fosters an ongoing dialogue regarding the criminal justice system. From time to time, Section officers and members meet with judges, law enforcement personnel and public officials to discuss plans for improvements and changes in criminal law and administration of criminal justice. When appropriate, the Section also recommends related policy positions to the Association's Board of Governors for action. Always playing a key role, the Section involves itself with matters ranging from the opening of a lawyers meeting room in the city's new Criminal Justice Center to the revision of court rules. If you are involved in any way with the criminal justice system you will find the Criminal Justice Section to be an appealing and collegial resource.
