This two-part CLE seminar will focus on the substantive and procedural requirements of postsecondary institutions under Title IX and the Clery Act regarding sexual assault and violence. At this unprecedented seminar, officials from the U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights and the Clery Act Compliance Division will present substantive programs on institutions' obligations under Title IX and the Clery Act. A panel of government attorneys, in house counsel, outside counsel, and consultants will present various viewpoints on these issues.

Higher education practitioners, college counsels, Title IX coordinators, Student Life staff and college administrators will benefit from these practical and informative 'nuts and bolts' presentations, including Q and A from OCR officials and Clery Act Division officials, as well as gain valuable tips from a panel of experienced practitioners.
